

"Angry groups" and empowerment processes

Sometimes, citizens refuse to cooperate and, in this frame, are not interested in any empowerment process (e.g., as it happens in Augestenberg-SE; for reference see original source document).

Applicable to:

Stakeholders: Attitudes toward authorities, Density of active citizenship

Disaster Phases: Prevention, Preparedness, Response, Recovery, All disaster phases

Types of Actors Concerned: Active citizens

Hazards: Natural hazards, Man-made non-intentional hazards or emergency situations, Man-made intentional hazards

Recommendations:

- Use new technologies, such as crowdsourcing to collect information from citizens, as a means to foster community engagement

Source

Deliverable D7.2 "Report on linkages between empowerment practices and specific socio-economic and environmental contexts" \(page 30\)

This file was generated automatically on: 12.02.2019.

"Angry groups" and empowerment processes

<https://culturalmap.carismand.eu/a/7-2-14-angry-groups-and-empowerment-processes>